Message from the Mayor

As Mayor of Campbelltown, it is my great pleasure to present Campbelltown 2027 - Council's highest level strategic document which sets the direction for the Council for the next 10 years.

Following an extensive engagement process with our local residents, businesses and key stakeholders, the following document outlines the aspirations of our city's people and how they see the Campbelltown of the future.

There is no denying that the city is about to undergo a huge transformation, with extensive growth and development on our doorstep now. It is important to Council that this growth is handled appropriately, and in a way that takes into consideration the community's values, hopes and dreams for the city.

We are focused on developing great places and a dynamic economy where businesses, families and neighbourhoods thrive. We are strengthening existing relationships and forging new partnerships with businesses, investors, government bodies and stakeholders, to deliver the best possible outcomes for our community – but we need your help to ensure the vision of the city – Campbelltown 2027 – comes to fruition.

It really is an exciting time to be the Mayor of Campbelltown, and I am excited about what the future holds for our city. I look forward to sharing the journey with you.

Message from the General Manager

It gives me great pleasure to present Campbelltown 2027, Campbelltown City's new Community Strategic Plan.

Campbelltown 2027 is Council's highest level strategic plan, and will inform the strategic planning of the Council to ensure we are working towards the aspirations of our community over the next 10 years.

The community feedback received throughout the preparation of Campbelltown 2027 was substantial, with more than 1000 responses registered. This is very satisfying given that we are committed to genuine engagement with our community. It is my intention to ensure that we continue to engage in conversations with you about a range of topics, so that Council's plans and strategies remain true to community sentiment.

Campbelltown 2027 focusses on delivering four key outcomes over the next 10 years:

1. a vibrant, liveable city
2. a respected and protected natural environment
3. a thriving, attractive city
4. a successful city.

Campbelltown City has a new emerging role to play in the growth and development of metropolitan Sydney. Important decisions by Government such as the Western Sydney Airport, the South West District Plan, the Glenfield-Macarthur Priority Urban Renewal Corridor Strategy and the Greater Macarthur Priority Growth Area all herald a new era of development and urban growth for Campbelltown City.

We are well placed to deal with existing local infrastructure due to the special rate variation previously adopted by Council that ensures adequate maintenance of the city's current infrastructure. However, it needs to be highlighted that there will be additional pressure on our city's services and facilities in meeting the demands that this future urban growth will bring. The challenge associated with the needs of a new community must be met at the time of the development, and we need to ensure that adequate and appropriate contributions are identified early on in the process.

This term of Council will shape the look and feel for the future of our city. There are a number of important strategies and plans to be considered by Council that will align to this overarching strategic document, and the Delivery Program will be adapted as required to ensure it continually reflects our planned activities, services and programs of work that will be implemented to support our future vision.

Campbelltown 2027 is commended to Council and the Campbelltown community for their support, and will provide a platform for our city to facilitate future growth while meeting the needs of our community.

The goals detailed in this document were determined through an extensive consultation process. We have listened to what our community has said is important to them, and now we must ensure that all of Council's plans and strategies align with the goals of Campbelltown 2027.

The implementation of Campbelltown 2027 is the responsibility of a range of partners; our aim is to bring together the community, Council and the city's key stakeholders to deliver this vision of our future.

This document acknowledges the competing pressures facing local communities such as ours, and the need to balance essential maintenance on things such as local infrastructure and the provision of key improvements to ensure a good quality of life for our people.

We know that Campbelltown City is facing huge growth over the next 10 years. By working together, we can ensure the future of Campbelltown for the next generation and beyond.

What is the Community Strategic Plan?

“Campbelltown 2027” is the Community Strategic Plan (CSP) for the city of Campbelltown.

The CSP is the highest level plan that a council will prepare. The purpose of the plan is to identify the community’s main priorities and aspirations for the future and to plan an approach to achieve these goals.

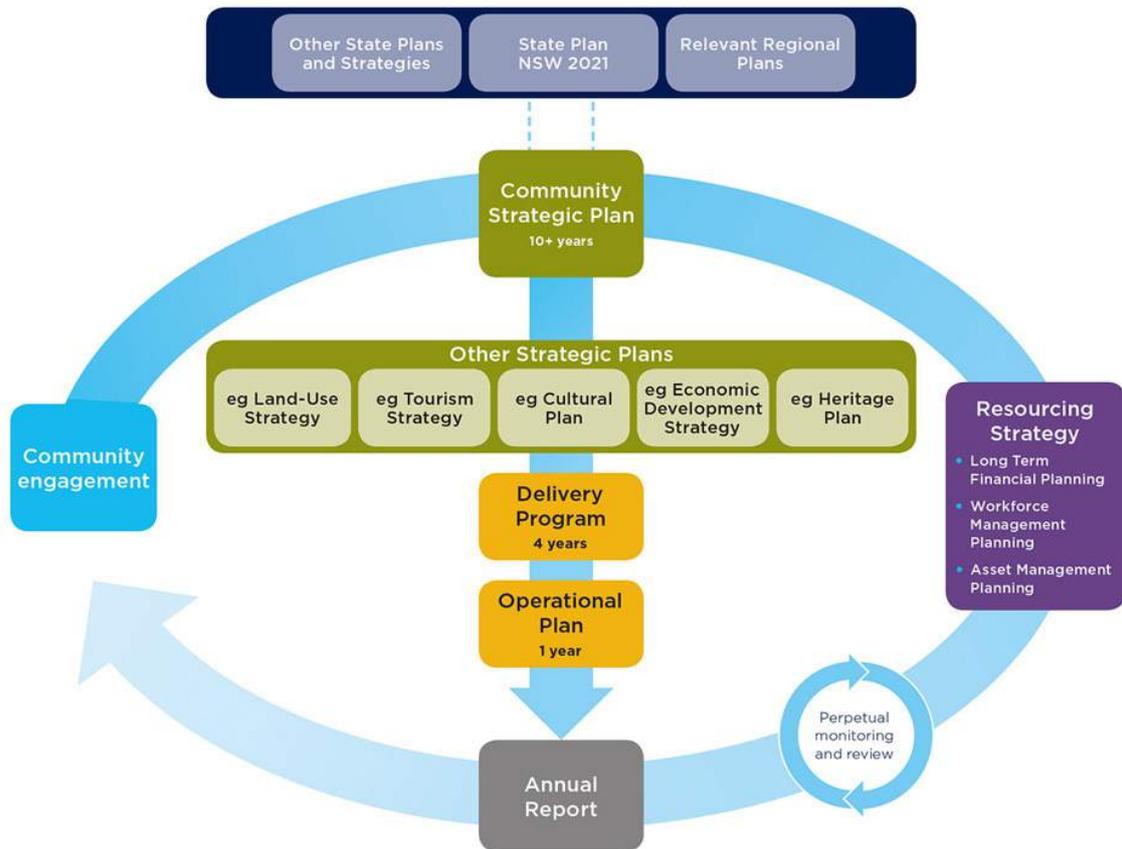

The CSP essentially addresses four key questions for the community:

1. Where are we now?
2. Where do we want to be in 10 years’ time?
3. How will we get there?
4. How will we know we’ve arrived?

The Office of Local Government requires all NSW councils to create a community strategic plan that addresses social, economic, environmental and civic leadership issues.

Integrated Planning and Reporting

All NSW councils operate within an Integrated Planning and Reporting (IP&R) framework as a requirement of the Office of Local Government. The IP&R framework requires councils to prepare a package of documents as depicted below:

The CSP sits at the top of the IP&R framework, supported below by other specific strategies and plans developed by the council that will help address specific issues within the community. The Delivery Program outlines the activities that the council will undertake over a four year period to achieve the objectives of the CSP, while the Operational Plan identifies the activities being undertaken in the current financial year along with the budget relating to these activities.

Each council must also develop a resourcing strategy that consists of a Long Term Financial Plan, a Workforce Management Plan and an Asset Management Plan.

The achievements of the council, community and other stakeholders against the objectives of the CSP are reported in the Annual Report.

Social Justice Principles

Campbelltown 2027 has been developed in accordance with the principles of social justice:

Equity – there should be fairness in decision making, and prioritising and allocation of resources, particularly for those in need. Everyone should have a fair opportunity to participate in the future of the community. The planning process should take particular care to involve and protect the interests of people in vulnerable circumstances.

Access – all people should have fair access to services, resources and opportunities to improve their quality of life.

Participation – everyone should have the maximum opportunity to genuinely be involved in decisions which affect their lives.

Rights – equal rights should be established and promoted, with opportunities provided for people from diverse linguistic, cultural and religious backgrounds to participate in community life.

Campbelltown City Council has achieved this by:

- Ensuring that a broad range of community members have had input into developing the Community Strategic Plan
- Specifically consulting with those groups whose voice is not often heard in community discussions
- Testing the objectives of the Community Strategic Plan against the social justice principles by checking whether the objectives are fair, if they exclude anyone from participating in the community's future and identifying whether anyone would be disadvantaged by the decisions
- Ensuring that the Community Strategic Plan is adequately based on sound social research and needs analysis
- Ensuring that the Community Strategic Plan provides opportunities for community members to become involved in its delivery and assessment of its effectiveness in achieving the objectives.

Research

Campbelltown 2027 outlines the strategic direction of Council based on the feedback of our community, as well as research on successful and resilient communities. This ensures that strategic decisions are evidence based, and support the desired outcomes of our community.

Research into some of the most successful and sustainable communities in the world show they are:

- Connected (locally, regionally, nationally and internationally through paths, roads and public transport infrastructure, social networks and communication technologies)
- Prosperous (strong and diverse businesses, and employment across all community groups)
- Creative (innovative, entertaining and vibrant)
- Sustainable and resilient (environmentally, economically and socially)
- Designed for people (easy and safe for all community members to access the services, amenities and comfort they need)

Campbelltown 2027 aims to ensure these are characteristics of Campbelltown City by:

- Setting a clear community vision
- Making decisions as a community
- Conducting research
- Paying attention to aesthetics and the city's liveability
- Working closely with neighbouring councils
- Working closely with all levels of government
- Providing strong civic leadership.

While Council has a custodial role in the development and ongoing review of the CSP, we are not wholly responsible for the implementation of all activities to meet the objectives within the strategy. Other stakeholders such as the State and Federal Governments and its agencies, and community organisations, may also be involved in delivering the long term objectives of the plan.

Resilient Sydney

In partnership with City of Sydney Council, we are participating in the 100 Resilient Cities initiative, established by the Rockefeller Foundation. This project endeavours to understand the pressures that make a city vulnerable, and develop strategies to help them become resilient.

As a member of this program, Council has come to understand these pressures at a local level, and has used the research from this program to help support and inform Campbelltown 2027.

Through this research and listening to our community, we have identified some of the pressures Campbelltown currently faces as a community:

Health and wellbeing

- Decrease in the affordability of housing
- An increase in the rate and distribution of chronic illnesses

Economy and society

- Increased interdependencies with global supply chains
- Rising pressure from domestic and drug-related crime
- Increasing cultural diversity and a wider distribution of population

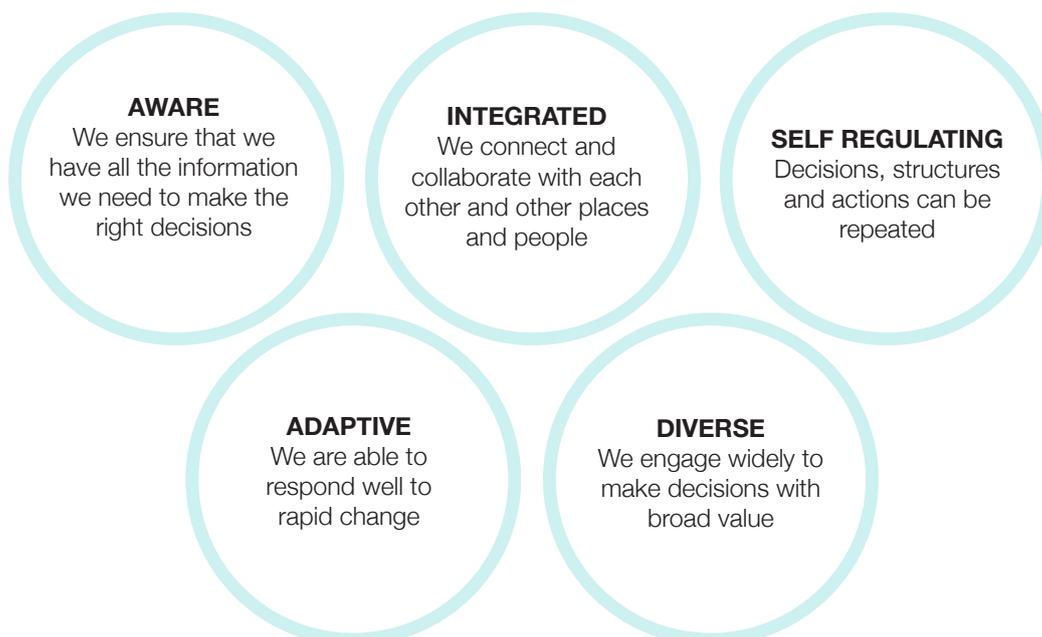

Infrastructure and environment

- Limited access to multimodal transport
- Increased reliance on digital technologies and solutions
- Increasing temperatures, more extreme weather events and rising sea levels

Leadership and strategy

- Short term or continually changing Government leadership

Given these are common pressures for metropolitan Sydney, we will support Campbelltown to build resilience by committing to the following five resilience behaviours.

What did you tell us?

As part of our research to help prepare Campbelltown 2027, we undertook a range of engagement activities.

What came out of this consultation, were a number of aspirations and challenges that the community said we should focus on over the next 10 years. The top priority areas identified are:

A comprehensive report which shows the results of our engagement activities that were undertaken to inform this strategy is available on our website www.campbelltown.nsw.gov.au

What pressures do we know Campbelltown will face in the next 10 years?

Campbelltown's growing population – We currently estimate that the population of Campbelltown City will reach approximately 270,000 people by the year 2036, however there is potential for that to exceed 300,000 people.

Campbelltown is a priority urban growth area – The NSW State Government has identified Campbelltown City as a priority urban growth area. This means that there are expectations on Council to plan for growth targets outlined by the NSW State Government. We need to ensure that the quality and character of our city is not diminished in our planning for this growth. New development will pose challenges for the planning of new infrastructure, while infill development will require plans to rejuvenate old infrastructure.

Campbelltown is a strategic centre of greater Sydney – The Sydney Metropolitan area is fast growing, and the existing inner city spaces and infrastructure can only support a percentage of this growth. It is important that as this growth occurs, other strategic city centres work together to plan for the best possible outcomes. Campbelltown City is one of 4 strategic city centres identified for Greater Western Sydney that will play a major role in providing lifestyle, business and education outcomes for our population. Council has a major role to play in planning and advocating for our service and infrastructure needs as our City becomes a major link to the rest of metropolitan Sydney and the new Western Sydney Airport at Badgerys Creek. This means that the strategic direction of Council will need to align with the priorities outlined in the South West District Plan prepared by the Greater Sydney Commission.

Other influences on Campbelltown 2027

In the development of Campbelltown 2027, there were a number of State and Regional plans that were considered. Campbelltown City Council has worked to ensure that the strategic direction of our local government area aligns with the strategic direction of the NSW State Government. The following strategies and plans have been considered:

- Destination 2036 – A NSW Government plan developed in consultation with all NSW Councils to identify actions to address the demographic, economic, technological and environmental challenges of the state with a forecast to 2036.
- Draft South West District Plan – The aspirations and proposals for Greater Sydney’s South West District, which includes the local government areas of Camden, Campbelltown, Fairfield, Liverpool and Wollondilly.
- NSW 2021 – A NSW Government strategic plan for NSW to rebuild the economy, ensure quality services, renovate infrastructure, strengthen our local environment and communities and restore accountability to government.

Fit for the Future

In 2016, many NSW councils were required to amalgamate under the direction of the State Government. The decision to merge many councils was determined through the assessment, by the NSW Government, of submissions prepared by councils that addressed “Fit For The Future” proposals. Campbelltown City Council was considered by the NSW Government as a “stand alone” council after going through this process. Whilst this means that Campbelltown will not be merging with any of its neighbouring councils, we are still required work on actions identified in our “Fit for the Future” proposal. These actions are addressed in Council’s Operational Plan and Resourcing Strategy.

Relevant legislation

Campbelltown 2027 fulfills the requirements of the NSW Local Government Act regarding Community Strategic Plans.

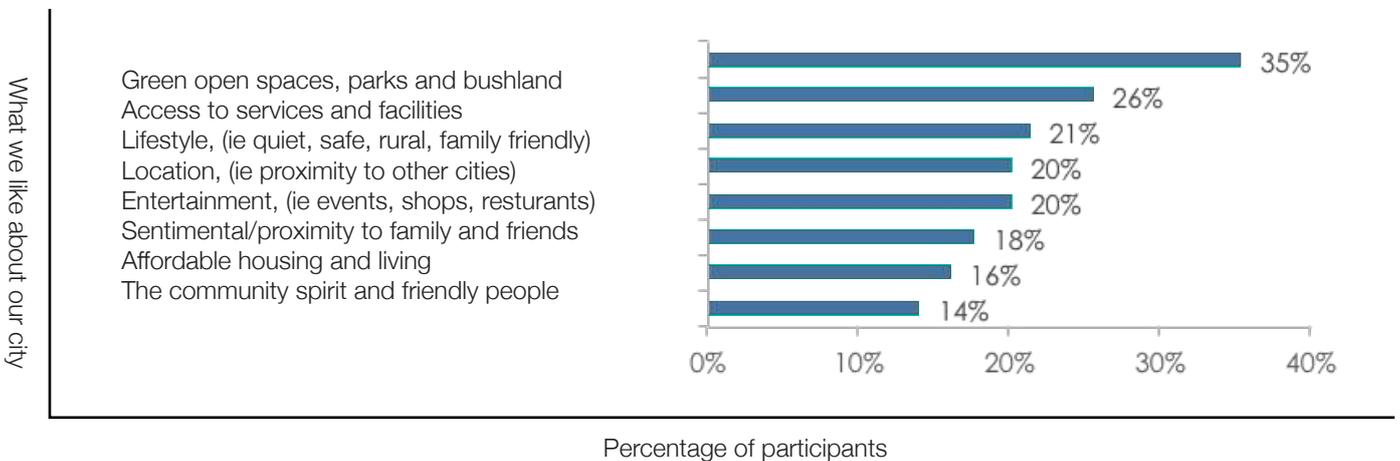

Campbelltown 2027 has considered the requirements of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act, and currently proposed amendments with specific reference to the link between “local strategic planning statements” and the Community Strategic Plan.

Where are we, what are we, and who are we now?

If the City of Campbelltown was made up of 100 people today, there would be:

During the research and community engagement process used to develop the CSP, the Campbelltown community listed the following aspects of our city as being those they liked the most:

Where do we want to be in 10 years?

The new vision for Campbelltown City is:

Campbelltown City - designed for ambition, innovation and opportunity.

A vision for Campbelltown's future

In the development of this strategy, Council has listened to the aspirations of residents, community organisations, local businesses and other specific groups who make up the fabric of our City. Using this information, Council has developed an overarching vision statement that reflects these aspirations, and underpins the strategic planning for the future of Campbelltown.

In 2027, Campbelltown is a city of great places, and boasts a dynamic economy where businesses, families and neighbourhoods thrive. Campbelltown City is renowned throughout Australia and beyond into Asia, for the opportunities that exist in our city. We are strong in relationships and continually forge new partnerships with businesses, investors, government bodies and stakeholders, to deliver the best possible outcomes for our community.

There is unlimited opportunity for people looking for a place where they can live, learn, work, play and invest. Campbelltown is a city that is a destination in its own right; a destination of distinctive character and liveability; a destination of choice and opportunity; a destination where people want to be; a place to live, learn, play and grow.

Further development of the city, complimenting the existing services and facilities which are already a major drawcard for people looking to move to or invest in the area has occurred. Campbelltown is positioned as a self-sustaining city, with access to the highest-level services, facilities and amenities, combined with a diversity of employment options.

Campbelltown delivers a diverse range of job opportunities close to home for local residents. Growing smart jobs, retaining educated professionals and capitalising on the expanding opportunities presented by our world-class health and education industries, has majorly benefited our economic growth. The city prioritises research and strategic planning to encourage development and investment in its health and education precinct, making Campbelltown a city of innovation.

Campbelltown has maintained collaborative partnerships that ensure commitment to better transport and jobs, foster new skills and innovation, embraces digital technologies and is globally competitive. Campbelltown is a catalyst for the new economic opportunities and careers of the future.

Council has developed relationships with other universities to encourage an enhanced tertiary education presence in Campbelltown. The world class and expanding educational sector provides local, regional and broader opportunities for students, residents, businesses and investors.

Planning in Campbelltown is reflective of the State Governments vision for the Greater South West, outlined in the draft South West District Plan. The draft South West District Plan recognises Campbelltown as a Strategic Centre of Sydney, an attractive destination for visitors and one of the strongest areas of economic activity within Sydney's south west district.

Council has worked collaboratively with the community to reinvigorate and revitalise its major CBD precincts. The CBD is the heart of the city, and its vitality and ability to attract people and employment has been enhanced through street activation and building architecture.

Much emphasis has been placed on protecting the natural environment for which Campbelltown is renowned and residents love. Commitment to enhancing the rich natural amenity of the region, including the vast open spaces, parks, gardens, and the natural bushland areas remains a high priority to Council and our community.

The vast vistas of Campbelltown's Scenic Hills and the immediate vicinity of the Georges River Regional Corridor and the Dharawal National Park remain Campbelltown's point of difference to Sydney's other strategic centres. The Australian Botanic Garden, Mount Annan and the Dharawal National Park, Wedderburn, are major attractions providing expanses of natural beauty and offer the perfect balance to city living and contribute to the distinctive character and liveability of the city.

The vibrant and creative capital of south west Sydney, Campbelltown is a cosmopolitan city where culture and community spirit are celebrated through an annual calendar of festivals and events, engaging the local community and attracting visitors from across greater Sydney.
