

Dharawal Guided Indigenous Walks

2021 Walk Series

Dharawal National Park

Immerse yourself in the raw beauty of the Dharawal National Park, located in southern Sydney.

Sustained by a distinctive network of creeks, including the ecologically-important O'Hares Creek catchment, this leafy park is of great significance to the Dharawal Aboriginal people and protects a number of sacred Aboriginal sites.

Booking a tour with our Aboriginal Discovery Ranger is the ideal way to discover the rich Indigenous history of the National Park.

O'Hares Creek Guided Indigenous Walk

Time: 9am
Duration: 1.5 hours
Cost: $15 per adult
$10 per child (3 to 15 years)
Children under 3 years are free

Soak in the views from above the treetops at the O'Hares Creek Lookout. The trail is a flat 2.8km return walk rated an easy grade 1. Suitable for all ages and abilities including prams, wheelchairs and mobility scooters. The bulk of the walk surface is a sealed pebble road with small sections of concrete path and metal mesh grates at the lookout.

Dharawal National Park is the traditional country of the Dharawal people. On this tour you will be guided by an Aboriginal Discovery Ranger as you take a fresh look at the natural landscape from a Koori perspective. Discover the many types of flora the Dharawal people used for bush foods and medicine.

10T Management Trail Walk

Time: 11:30am
Duration: 1.5 hours
Cost: $35 per adult
$18 per child (3 to 15 years)
Children under 3 years are free

GRADE 3

The 10T Management Trail is one of the more popular trails. This trail meanders down to views of the sacred women's sight of Minerva Pool. On this walk you will encounter a variety of flora traditionally used by the Dharawal people for bush foods and medicine.

Later, participants will experience traditional making methods of women and men, by taking part in an activity. The walking group will split into two groups. The men will join a male guide to take part in an activity down by a creek and the women and children will proceed to the sacred women's sight of Minerva escarpment to take part in a weaving activity. The groups will regroup to continue back up the trail.

The 10t Management trail is rated as a grade 3 medium track, as some sections are unsealed and there is an incline on the return.

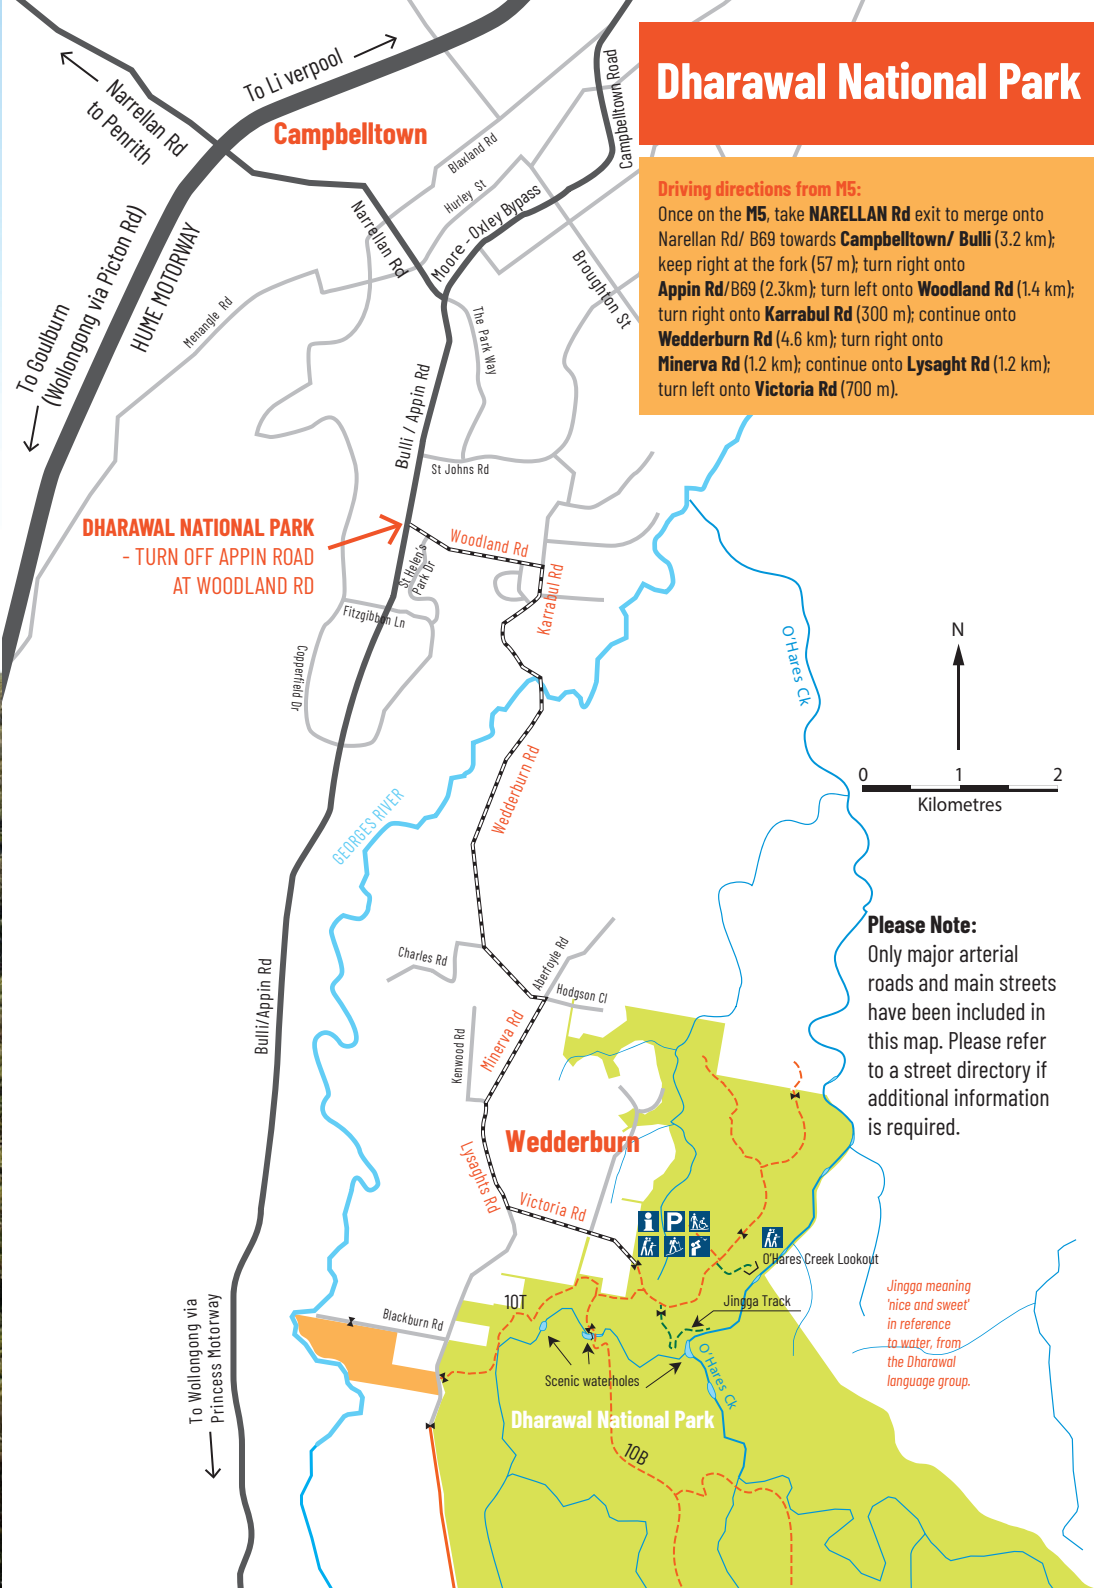

So if your mobility is limited, you may find the walk challenging.
